Region 2: The Nebraska State Quilt Guild Region 2 Gathering was held July 14, 2018 in Atkinson. We helped the Atkinson Area Chamber of Commerce celebrate Christmas in July and their 5th Annual Quilt Walk. Christmas music was playing on Main Square, Santa was there in his Bermuda shorts handing out candy, and each Quilt Walk participant was given a paper quilt. Twenty-four businesses displayed a total of 80 quilts, after viewing quilts at a business; participants were given a quilt square sticker to decorate their paper quilt. Each paper quilt was put into a drawing for cash prizes from the Chamber of Commerce. Kristina Morrow, owner of ToMorrrows Quilts 2 Love, near Waverly, was the featured speaker at 10 am and 2 pm. Seventy-five quilters attended. Kristina is a Certified Eleanor Burns instructor converting traditional quilt patterns into AccuQuilt friendly designs using Eleanor Burns patterns to demonstrate the AccuQuilt. Everyone was treated to a beautiful trunk show by Kristina. Submitted by Bonnie Lech, Region 2 Director.

Region 3: The Region 3 Quilter's Day Out was held at the Nebraska Prairie Museum in Holdrege on Saturday, June 2. The morning began with coffee and rolls and continued until noon with four round robin programs: Joyce Kingsley and Pat Scoville explained how the museum quilts are folded and stored following the Quilt Study Center guidelines; Geri Steinbrink told stories of the museum's quilts of the 1860's; Alice Erickson explained the computer program where the details of the quilts are stored; and Vicki Swanson showed and told of her feed sack quilt collection.

Noon lunch was catered and Cindy Scheinost spoke about Nebraska State Quilt Guild and the benefits of being a member.

In the afternoon, Yvonne Hollenbeck, cowgirl poet, from Clearfield, SD spoke about and showed a number of her quilts. Some of them were made by family members from the area surrounding Holdrege. She also entertained us with her poems. Her program was lively and fun.

A number of door prizes were given to those in attendance. There were 60 ladies who spent the day at Quilter's Day Out. Submitted by Mary Olson, Region 3 Director.

Education: Submitted by Sheila Green

National Quilting Day and Discover Nebraska have again been the focus for NSQG Education. The 9th annual National Quilting Day is history! Thanks to the awesome 105+ volunteers and museum staff. We celebrated the 10th anniversary of Quilt House and the 45th anniversary of the Lincoln Quilters Guild. Thanks to the generous sponsorship by Aurifil, AccuQuilt, Handi Quilter, local shops Cosmic Cow, Crafthouse and Sew Creative, over 600 guests received FREE museum admission. Sponsoring quilt guilds included Lincoln Quilters Guild, Nebraska State Quilt Guild and Lincoln Modern Quilt Guild. Guests toured the current exhibitions and viewed demonstrations and displays planned just for the day. Lectures were presented by Kris Vierra and Dorothy Heidemann-Nelson and IQSCM staff, Carolyn Ducey and Lydia Neuman.

Young and old alike made over 200 quilt blocks that were made into two wall hangings for Lincoln’s Child Advocacy Center. Lincoln Modern Quilt Guild had an educational display, “That’s Modern.” Handiwork demonstrations and String Quilting with a Modern Twist workshop were on the third floor. Guests learned how our museum staff and volunteers care for quilts. Thanks to the LQG and NSQG for its financial support and help with planning. We hope you’re able to join us for National Quilting Day 2019 on March 16.

Site Selection: Submitted by Kelly Thomalla, Faith Kliewer and Karen Ruwe.

The site selection working with the board discussed where we can hold our annual conference in July that facilitates our needs. We have only Omaha, Lincoln, Seward and Kearney that are able to hold our entire conference under one roof. This is the wish of a majority of you. We can unload all of our stuff at one time and not have to haul it back and forth another reason we need to have it this way to accommodate vendors they spend time and money to come and if we are spread out around town then there is no time to shop if we aren't at the same facility. In discussion the board and site selection agreed that the Kearney conference center is able to accommodate our needs and the cost factor was also taken into consideration. We are doing this also to lower the cost to all of you that attend Quilt Nebraska and hope to encourage a larger number of attendees. Kearney is very willing to work with us in meeting our needs. They also are building a new conference area.

In Kearney everything will be in the same location. There are elevators, attendees will have access to the vendors and breakfast is included. This will help to lower costs. Quilt Nebraska will be in Kearney from 2020 to 2023.

Quilt Nebraska Initiatives: Submitted by Merikay Berg

President Marty Kleppinger appointed Merikay Berg to lead an initiative to improve Quilt Nebraska. A meeting was held at the 2017 Quilt NE. Those attending were: past Quilt NE chairs and past, current and future Nebraska State Quilt Guild presidents.

Those attending came prepared with suggestions to improve Quilt NE. The suggestions were compiled and sent to all attendees and presented at a State Guild meeting.

President Cindy Scheinost appointed a committee to choose 3 of the most important initiatives to begin with. Those chosen were: Keep costs as low as possible, make Quilt History Day a part of Quilt NE and move the general meeting to Friday evening.

This committee will continue to function to offer ways to improve Quilt NE. As a suggested initiative is met another initiative will come forward to improve Quilt NE.

Raffle Quilt 18: Submitted by Gayle Rojas.

All 4,999 tickets were sold for the raffle quilt. The winner of the quilt was Rita Weber

Raffle Quilt 19: Submitted by Sandy Dahlgren

1500 tickets were sold last night at the banquet. More have been sold this morning. Contact me to schedule to have the raffle quilt at your event.

NSQG worked with Quilt House to provide a monetary gift of $5,000.00 to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the IQSC&M. Susan Weber's, past president of NSQG issued a $10,000.00 fundraising challenge grant in honor of her mother Gweneth Moxham Eickman. As illustrated above the NSQG played a dominant role in this endeavor. See attached thank you letter from Leslie Levy, Ardis & Robert James Director.

The Friends group thanks the membership of NSQG for the monetary help that has been given during all ten years of the existence of Quilt House. Friends are a working board, but if anyone is interested in serving as a board member please contact me.

Threads Across Nebraska: Submitted by LeAnne Killion.

Threads Across Nebraska was held at the Buffalo County Fairgrounds on October 13-14, 2017 with 24 vendors.

There was an increase in attendance this year, up to 950 from 850.

Our featured quilter, Paulette Peters, had twenty quilts on display. Twenty quilts from the International Quilt Study Center education quilts were loaned to us. The Nebraska 150 quilts were on hand. Quilts of Valor also had 35 quilts made by members of the Nebraska chapters. With all these quilts, in addition to the 190 quilts registered for the show, people had the opportunity to view 265 quilts.

I need to thank the Quilts of Valor ladies for all their help hanging quilts on Thursday. Without their help it would have taken much longer to hang the show. Our pool of volunteers was very small this year.

The NSQG raffle quilt was displayed as well as quilts from the Panhandle guild, Omaha Quilters Guild, Cottonwood, Lincoln Quilt Guild and two non-quilt guilds.

We had six 4' x 4' wooden signs as well as 50 yard signs around town. This year we will have those signs plus an additional 25 yard signs. I had people comment on seeing the signs around town so I can assume they helped with visibility of the show.

The profit from Threads Across Nebraska 2017 was $4,108. NSQG donates 15% of the profit from Threads to the Friends of the International Quilt Study Center.

Progress on this year's show: October 12-13

Sandi McMillan is our featured quilter. There are 21 vendors committed at this time. Our classes this year are: Peg Spradlin will share on beginning machine quilting and tips for those that want a refresher, Mary Lou Kerr from Valentine will share with us how she does her paper pieced stained glass window quilts (her quilt is on the cover of the brochure), Kay Grimminger and Pat Oschner will teach you how to make a funky necklace you can wear home that day. Signup sheets for classes were out during the convention, if you didn't get one, the newsletter and website will also have the registration form.

Please register your quilts for the show and save me some phone time! Thanks!

We will need volunteers to make the show a success. Please sign up on the sheets by the door. Other than the raffle quilt, Threads is the biggest fundraiser for the guild. Let's continue to support it and make it a success!

NE State Fair: Submitted by Jan Sittler.

"Harvest the Memories" is the theme of the 2018 Nebraska State Fair. Come and enjoy the food, great entertainment, the rides, the animals, the action – and of course the quilts. Have fun and make memories for your family, friends and yourself.

Donors: 146 awards have been donated by individuals, small groups, guilds, shops, businesses and the Nebraska State Fair. $3,895 will be awarded in cash and gift certificates One of our most loyal donors is this organization – the Nebraska State Quilt Guild.

Limit of 3 /Exhibitor: Fair visitors have long communicated their disappointment in not being able to see more of the large quilts at the fair. We never want to limit the number of exhibitors but we do wish to have fewer quilts in the room. A new limit of 3 quilts per exhibitor was established this year. Lots of quilts is a great problem to have. The results of the entry change will be seen in a few weeks.

Volunteers: It takes 350 volunteers approximately 2000 hours to enter, judge, hang and white glove the State Fair Quilt Show. I have visited 2 of our local high school counselors about recruiting interested teen volunteers to help white glove and take down quilts during quilt release. Two Grand Island high schools require students to do community service as a part of their education plan. Are you and some of your guild or group members volunteering this year? We still need a few more White Glove volunteers to work during the fair. If you can help, contact Linda Kruse at 308-390-2335 or by email at lkruse2@charter.ne

Cindy Scheinost, President

Scottsbluff, NE 69361-5116

Dear Cindy and members of the Nebraska State Quilt Guild,

It is my distinct honor to write to you today.

Thank you for your very generous gift towards Susan Weber's $10,000 fundraising challenge in honor of her mother, Gweneth Moxham Eickman. It was wonderful for Susan to acknowledge and celebrate the 10-year anniversary of the International Quilt Study Center & Museum in such a meaningful and impactful manner. She cannot have imagined the effect her generosity would have on so many. It far surpassed everyone's expectations.

The Nebraska State Quilt Guild played a dominate role in this success!

We mention milestones and statistics to measure the work we do, but behind these numbers are real people, like each of you, who support our unique mission. The Nebraska State Quilt Guild has been a loyal, generous and stalwart partner in helping us preserve the stories, the art and the history of quilting. Your endeavors such as QuiltNebraska, Threads Across Nebraska, the regional Quilt Gatherings and the award the NSQG sponsors at the State Fair ensure the legacy of quilting will be preserved, and that new generations will prosper.

We will continue to protect and preserve, and to offer the best exhibitions for our guests; your generosity makes this possible. Susan will be overwhelmed at the level of commitment, and the recognition of her family's impact on generations of quilters.

The words, Thank You, do not seem adequate to express the deep gratitude we have for your gift. On behalf of everyone at the International Quilt Study Center & Museum, with the sincerest appreciation of your generosity, thank you!
